

Bumper & McDog™

Big Feelings Social Emotional Learning for Kids

Series Overview

Bumper and McDog's Big Feelings Social Emotional Learning for Kids is a picture book series for children ages 3–5 that supports kindergarten readiness through social-emotional learning and executive function development.

All Four Bumper & McDog Books Now Available At:
Amazon, Walmart.com, Barnes & Noble, and some local libraries.

Ideal for children building confidence and emotional awareness.

How the Series Works

Through relatable situations, gentle humor, and expressive characters, the stories help young children explore emotions, cooperation, confidence, and problem-solving.

Flexible for Classrooms and Homes

Designed for use in classrooms, libraries, and homes, the books work well as read-alouds or discussion starters. Rather than teaching lessons directly, the series creates opportunities for meaningful conversation through everyday experiences.

About The Author

Richard Mueller is a Sonoma County-based children's book author and illustrator. He creates picture books that support social-emotional learning and kindergarten readiness through storytelling, conversation, and play.
